TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1883.

Ben Butler is a caution.

Ben Butler's cheek is immense, sublime.

There are signs of another boom for Blaine.

Protection maintains the balance of trade in our favor.

There is no more level-headed man in this country than General Sherman.

Men could like Mathew Arnold better if he would part his hair man-fashion.

Freddie Gebhardt doesn't seem to be much afraid of Lilly Langtry's mother.

The boys who went with Sherman to the sea would boom for him for President.

Butler claims in his speeches that he is by all odds the most available man for President.

Thurman seems to have lost his grip, though he is still the noblest Roman of them all.

Gen. Sheridan has gone to Washington to assume command of the army. Glad to see Little Phil on top.

It cannot be denied that President Arthur is daily becoming more popular. His administration is a success.

The "tap of the drum" seems to have been heard and to have given the National idea something of a boom.

Lilly Langtry had an idea of the fitness of things when she selected "School for Scandal" as a part of her repertory.

General Sherman has had a boom among the soldiers at Cleveland. The last man of them would vote for him for President.

The Washington Territory Legislators are debating the question of a $60,000 Insane Asylum.—Ex.

If they can construct as good an Asylum as Nevada did they ought to vote the $60,000.

The Irish people know from experience of the blessings of free trade with England. England and the Democratic party of this country propose to bestow similar blessings upon our people.

The colored people of Arkansas are being persecuted and driven out of the State by the white Democrats. The Democratic Legislature of that sovereign State will hardly pass a Civil Rights bill for their protection.

An exchange says that when your wife asks for wealth for the purchase of a new Fall hat the handsomest thing to do is to hand it out. This is doubtless the handsomest and proper thing, but the homely and common thing that is done is to ask her what became of the hat she got last Fall.

The Carson Appeal says "The officers in the State Capitol, with the exception of those in the Surveyor General's office, complain of a dearth of business. They will have sufficient leisure to peruse the entire contents of the State Library before the expiration of the next three years."

The Attorney General of the United States is compelled to inform the colored people of Arkansas, who are being persecuted by the white Democrats, that the United States Government has no power to protect its citizens, that they must look to their State Legislature, and failing there, must leave the State. Their leading men advise them to leave. The Arkansas Legislature will not be in a hurry to pass a civil rights bill.

Our Democratic friends, who have howled year in and year out about the sacred rights of States, and who opposed the Civil Rights bill with the utmost bitterness because it trampled on those rights and because, as they said, "it made a nigger better than a white man," are now suddenly seized with pains in the head and stomach because the Supreme Court has held the law unconstitutional; and, although no man is deprived now of any right that he ever had, these Democrats are dreadfully alarmed about the condition of "the colored people." The change in their sentiments is quite remarkable, and is a matter of congratulation.

A CONNECTICUT TRAGEDY.

A Successor to the Rose Ambler Mystery.

The Chicago Tribune's Westport (Conn.) special of the 27th says: Much excitement has been caused throughout the State by the discovery of the mutilated body of Mrs. Julia Godfrey, near this place, under circumstances which may make the case almost as interesting, if not as famous, as the crimes which ended in the unavenged deaths of Mary Stannard, Jennie Cramer and Rose Ambler. This time the victim is a young married woman of Saugatuck, pretty and accomplished and popular with a large circle of acquaintances. Gossip has tided with her good name and there have not been infrequent rumors that her husband had reasons for jealousy and that her home life was not happy. Edward Godfrey is one of the best-known residents of Saugatuck. He has lived in the place all his life. Ten years the senior of his wife, their tastes in many ways have been marked by dissimilarity. The young wife was full of life and animation. She cared more for social pleasures than for the dull routine of home duty, and it was not unusual that while the husband remained at home at night to care for the family, the wife was enjoying the fascinations of some rural ball-room. A week ago, it is reported, there was a bitter quarrel in the Godfrey household and the husband is said to have told his wife that she must reform or leave his house.

A party of gunners yesterday found her body half-buried in the mud on the Saugatuck marshes half a mile from the Westport station. The body was in a shocking condition, with blood smeared over the face and hands and not yet washed away by the water. Over the right eye was a deep gash and on the head, in two or three different places, were large bumps, resulting, probably, from heavy blows inflicted by some blunt weapon. Near the center of the forehead was a deep indentation and the skull was fractured. It looked as though an ax had been used to commit the crime.

The local officers have been busy investigating the woman's death, but they have found no clue to fix the crime, and in the absence of all ability to do this, they have decided in an off-hand manner that the woman committed suicide.

Tilden's Scheme.

The Philadelphia Leader's New York special says: It is learned that ex-Governor Tilden is going to have a grand house-warming after election and it is said invitations are already out. The object of Tilden, there is no impropriety in saying, is not only to display to his numerous personal friends his magnificent residence constructed on Gramercy Park at a cost of nearly $250,000, but to effect a formal reconciliation of the house of Tilden with the house of Tammany, foreshadowing a possible renomination of the "old ticket" by the next National Convention. His plans are subscribed to by such prominent men as Governor Cleveland, August Belmont and the entire city Congressional delegation, as well as the Tammany boss. It is also part of the programme to have Randall for Speaker of the House.

An Irrigating Enterprise.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: Louis Lay, of Golconda, is engaged in an enterprise by which he hopes to save enough water in the Spring, when that fluid is going to waste, to irrigate a thousand or more acres of alfalfa during the Summer. He has had a survey made by J. C. Smyles on Rock Creek, three miles from Golconda, for a reservoir which will cover thirty or forty acres, and hold almost an unlimited quantity of water. This reservoir he intends to let fill in the Spring, when the snow is melting on the mountains above it, and keep it for use as occasion may require during the Summer. The site of the reservoir is so situated above a narrow canyon that a dam can be built at comparatively small expense to hold the water, which will be carried by a ditch to the valley below.

The Classics Ahead.

The New York Tribune says: The principal point in the address of Lord Coleridge to the Yale College students Friday last, was his reference to the study of classics. He disclaimed any wish to criticize anybody, but what he said was practically a direct reply to the recent oration of Charles Francis Adams. Coleridge said he owed whatever degree of success in life he has attained to the constant study of Latin and Greek. This personal testimony, coming from such a source, must be considered very strong. Moreover, other arguments which Coleridge advanced were forcible and well put. In this controversy, at present the classics are decidedly ahead.

A Successful Burglary.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., October 29. The most daring robbery ever perpetrated in this city, occurred yesterday morning. The jewelry store of L. O. Stowe & Co., on Main street, had its safe broken open and rifled of diamonds, gold bracelets and watches, valued at between $10,000 and $15,000. The job was done at between 4 and 6 o'clock by a gang of professionals, who left a fine kit of tools. The robbery was not discovered till 1 o'clock. The burglars are supposed to have left the city on the 6:05 train.

Thieving Pension Agents.

WASHINGTON, October 29. A large number of complaints of wrong-doing on the part of pension agents came to District Attorney Corkhill yesterday in the mail. Every section of the country is represented. In many more important cases, a number of claims, as filed in the Pension Office were given, and it is therefore impossible to complete a case from the files. Colonel Corkhill says, in sending him information, it is very important to give the Pension Office numbers of the claims.

Incendiary Fires.

SALT LAKE, October 29. Early yesterday morning the Salt Lake skating pavilion was burned, causing a loss of $10,000; insurance, $3,000, in Eastern companies. The fire was incendiary. At noon the stables of the Railroad Exchange Hotel caught, and the flames extending to the hotel, and consumed it with most of its contents. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $7,000.

Millionaire Methods.

The Stockton Herald (Arthur M. Ewen), commenting on the attempted assassination of William Neilson, the attorney arrayed against Sharon, says: "It is not an unheard of thing for Nevada millionaires to procure the murder of persons who have incurred their hatred. We venture to say that Senator Fair will neither be shocked nor incredulous when he learns that Sharon is suspected by Neilson of having hired assassins to silence him."

Evergreen Millet.

The Alturas Independent has the subjoined in reference to the cultivation of this seed in that section: For some time past, the farmers and stock raisers of this county have been considerably interested in the grass known as evergreen millet, and quite a number have experimented with it, though none of the experiments have been on an extensive scale. It was believed that if this grass possessed the qualities claimed for it, that it could be sown on the hills and dry lands, and thus afford a never-failing supply of food for stock. Late developments, however, go to show that it cannot be depended on for winter feed in this climate for the reason that it is too tender—too easily affected by frost. In conversation with Mr. Jacob Gulcher, of Surprise Valley, the other day, that gentleman informed us that last Spring he planted a few seeds of the evergreen millet; that grass came up and flourished nicely, until a few days ago, when there came a light frost and killed the grass to the ground. Mr. Gulcher thinks it possible that the roots may live through the winter and the grass grow again; but he is satisfied that it will not do to rely upon, and that any frost that will kill tomato or melon vines will kill this grass.

Bear Hunting.

[S. F. Bulletin, Oct. 27th.] A party of bear hunters leave here this morning, by the Southern Pacific and Atlantic and Pacific Railroads, for the San Francisco Mountains, Arizona. The party consists of Lieutenant Governor Langhorne, of Nevada, Frank F. Stone, son of Dr. Stone, and Harry P. Smith, Jr., local agent of the Missouri Pacific, and the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific lines. They will go to Holbrook, A. T., by rail, thence by ambulance to Fort Apache, where they will take saddle horses for the mountains. At Fort Apache they will be the guests of Captain Dougherty, commander of the fort. They expect to be absent about ten weeks.

A letter from Capt. A. D. Rock, of Eureka, informs us that he has formed a partnership with T. J. Read in the surveying and civil engineering business, and that they are prepared to take contracts for getting United States patents at lower rates than have been heretofore charged, or at prices ranging from $200 to $300, which covers the entire expense excepting the cost of travel to and from the claims to be surveyed. They are both first-class surveyors and thoroughly conversant with all of the red tape routine of the Land Office. Their address is Eureka, Nevada.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

COST OF JURIES.—County Clerk Gilson has been figuring on the cost of grand and trial juries in this county during the year, and finds that it amounts to about $3,000. Under the old fee system the Sheriff's charges for summoning a venire of jurors frequently amounted to about $1,000, but the amount above stated is for per diem and mileage of jurors only.—Winnemucca Silver State.

I Know Whereof I Speak.

For I have used it extensively. I regard Parker's Ginger Tonic as most excellent remedy for kidney, lung and stomach disorders. It invigorates without intoxicating. J. Francis, (Religio Philo. Journal, Chicago.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Interesting Cleanings from the Mountains.

The following items are from the Truckee Republican of the 27th: Miss Sheritt is confined to her bed with a severe attack of pneumonia and rheumatism.

The Good Templar's Lodge is fast growing in popularity. There was a very large attendance last evening, and several were initiated.

Marlette & Folsom are getting in their winter supplies. Nelson Martin this morning loaded a six-horse team with flour and other merchandise for them.

Carpenter is about the last of the dairymen to leave for winter quarters. Last week he sent out a large lot of stock, and this week the last band passed through Truckee headed below.

Several Indians arrived in town yesterday with six or eight ponies loaded down with deer. They say that in all, they killed about 30 on the North Fork of the American river. They have been gone about two weeks.

About an inch of snow fell in Truckee Thursday night and yesterday. Although it did not stay long, the weather wears a decided wintery aspect, and the dark bank of clouds, which for the past few days has hung over the Sierras to the south of town, causes a great deal of uneasiness among lumbermen and wood contractors.

A Golden Catfish.

Morris May, of Franktown, Washoe Valley, has on exhibition a catfish of a beautiful golden color. It is the first one of the kind ever caught in Washoe Lake. It will be presented to Fish Commissioner Parker on his return from California.

FAVORITISM

is a bad thing, but Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" deserves its name. It is a certain cure for those painful maladies and weaknesses which embitter the lives of so many women. Of druggists.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr

A Sufferer From Rheumatism. I limped about for years with a cane, and could not bend down without excruciating pain. Parker's Ginger Tonic effected an astonishing cure and keeps me well. It is infallible. Guilfoyle, Binghamton, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly, to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves, and brace up the system. It is therefore in the truest sense an alternative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

All is again quiet on the Truckee.

Seventeen prisoners in the county jail.

R. L. Fulton went to the Bay yesterday.

Ed. Fenis, of Long Valley, is in town.

James Sherritt has taken out his first papers.

There are now 149 patients at the Asylum.

D. H. Barker returned from the East yesterday.

F. Merrill and P. N. Norton are in from Peavine.

Fifteen passengers came in on the N. & O. train last night.

Judge Webster is sorely afflicted with rheumatic gout.

Mrs. Geo. H. Taylor returned from Boston Sunday morning.

George Suthoff left Reno yesterday for a short visit to Colfax, Cal.

Hall, Wells Fargo's Division Superintendent, was here yesterday.

Wm. Coppersmith is in from Surprise Valley for a load of supplies.

Adelia Oidway has applied for letters on the estate of A. E. Ordway, deceased.

Miss Villa Hunt, of Virginia City, will open a dancing school in Reno next week.

Supt. Jerry Whited and wife came up from Wadsworth yesterday on the delayed train.

Adam Tinkham and wife, Spanish Spring Valley, were on the streets yesterday.

Bragg & Schoelling's saw mill, in Long Valley, last Saturday shut down for the winter.

There is a rumor afloat that work is to be resumed on the Golden Fleece mine at Peavine.

The District Court will be in session next Monday, on which day J. E. Combs will receive his sentence.

Some matters pertaining to the estate of U. D. Masten, deceased, will come up in the District Court Monday.

It is said that one hundred and thirty seven orators are on the stump in Massachusetts denouncing Ben Butler.

John Mackay, through Frank Osbison, has bought the Hakill, Whale, and other mining property, at Georgetown, Colorado.

Jake Leonard, so long the faithful "butcher boy" for Henry Rhue, will soon accept a situation at his trade in Carson.

Uncle Jake McKissick is in from Long Valley. He says he has 80 sacks of wool on the way in, the product of his Fall clip.

Allen Evans and wife arrived from Long Valley last night and will spend the winter in Reno. Mr. Rhodes has taken possession of the ranch.

Leadbetter received and stowed away in his cellar yesterday, 500 boxes of Honey Lake apples, and has contracted for all the apples for sale in that Valley.

L. W. Warne and family, who have been visiting friends in Surprise Valley for the past month, returned yesterday to their home in Sacramento.

The very best way to avoid sickness, save money, be genteel and comfortable, is to buy your clothing of Abrahams Brothers at the White House.

It has been so dry this Fall that ranchmen have concluded to irrigate their alfalfa fields to prevent their dying out from drouth before the winter sets in.

H. A. Mason, editor and proprietor of the Sierra Valley Leader, was in town yesterday. The Leader is an excellent little weekly, and Reno merchants will find it profitable to patronize it.

The N. & O. train encountered a herd of antelope yesterday morning near Rock Springs, and the passengers succeeded in killing two of them with pistols.

Sam Hollis, one of the old time boys, is in town, and thinks he will tackle Reno this winter. This is about the only camp in the world he has not had a whack at. He is welcome to try his hand with us.

The Messenger says that the prospect for the Eagle mine in Lewis District is very encouraging, and that the chances are very favorable for some of the mines in that defunct camp to become bullion producers.

The Nevada State flouring mill is kept running to its full capacity and is still unable to fill orders for flour as fast as they come in. The mill is now manufacturing flour that cannot be excelled in any country.

If you must indulge in the fragrant weed you should buy the best, always; and the place to find the purest, sweetest and best tobacco and cigars is at E. Meyer's on Commercial Row.

Mr. S. Summerfield left Reno yesterday morning for Austin to accept a position offered him as teacher in the public school at that place. Mr. S. is a worth young man, and the Austinites will find him a competent teacher.

The Carson races commence to-morrow, and the JOURNAL assures the Carsonites that they will be favored with some good speed contests. The JOURNAL hopes a number of Renoites will find occasion to visit Carson during the four days' racing.

Gen. Evans returned yesterday from his mining estate in Plumas county. The General followed placer mining in California for a quarter of a century with varied success, and is now confident that he has a better prospect than he ever had in all that time.

Ex-Assemblyman T. E. Hagar, of Battle Mountain, the Constable who arrested the man that robbed the Gerald Postoffice some time ago, came in from the east yesterday en route to Carson as a witness against the robber, whose trial was set for 7 o'clock last evening.

An insurance agent arrived in Reno yesterday morning en route to Susanville to adjust the loss occasioned by the burning of the Susanville race track. He met Spencer here and adjusted the losses and thus saved a tedious stage ride.

A force of men are at work constructing a new bridge across the Lake ditch, on Virginia street. The sides of the ditch will be walled up with stone and covered with heavy plank and over this a foot of ground. H. H. Beck is superintending the work.

There will be a partial eclipse of the sun at about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Old Sol will sink behind the mountains with his face a little off color. It won't be much of a show but you may not live to see a better one of the kind, so you had better take it in.

What the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina upon a certain occasion is no more familiar to the public generally than is the fact that George Becker, at the Pacific Brewery, is manufacturing the very best beer in the country.

Alfred Clark, who was here last week as an Attorney in the habeas corpus case against Hyams, is so impressed with the correctness of the decision in the case, that he has written a letter to Judge Boardman asking permission to have the decision published in the Pacific Coast Law Journal.

Winter Schedule.

The Winter schedule for the Northern mail goes into effect November 1st. In Summer the mail is carried through to Susanville in one day and in Winter the contractor is allowed two days. To meet the requirements of the Winter schedule the N. & O. will hereafter go out every day, Sundays included. Although two days is allowed in which to make the trip, the mails will leave Reno and Susanville daily.

Asylum Escape.

John Egan escaped from the Asylum last Friday morning and proceeded to Virginia, where he was recaptured Saturday night, and returned to the Asylum on Sunday. Egan was confined in a room in the manse, and in some way forced the iron bars off his window. How he did it, and how he managed to reach the ground safely, remains a mystery. This is the second time Egan has got away. However, there is nothing very dangerous about him even when at large.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By the President of the United States.

In furtherance of the custom of this people at the closing of each year to engage upon a day set apart for that purpose, in special festival of praise to the giver of all good, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th of November next, as a day of National Thanksgiving.

The year which is drawing to an end has been replete with evidences of divine goodness, the prevalence of health, the fullness of harvests, of the stability of peace and order, the growth of fraternal feelings, the spread of intelligence and of civil and religious liberty. All these and countless other blessings are cause for rejoicing. I do, therefore, recommend that on the day above mentioned the people rest from their accustomed labors and meet in their several places of worship and express their devout gratitude to God that he has dealt so bountifully with this Nation, and pray that his grace and favor will abide with it forever.

(Signed): CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

By the President:

FREDERICK T. FENNINGHAM, Secretary of State.

THE INSANE PEOPLE.

A Chronicle Reporter's Notes of Affairs in the Asylum at Reno.

(Virginia Chronicle, Oct. 29th.)

The insane asylum at Reno is a whole community in itself. It requires the most constant and watchful care—far more, in fact, than the State Prison. The guards are chosen not only for their steadiness, but for their strength and watchfulness. For ever since the arrival of the patients from Woodbridge, Cal., where they were formerly confined, the increased freedom has developed a kind of license unknown in the former institution.

At Woodbridge they were closely confined in a penyard about twenty feet square and were clothed in the shabbiest manner. In fact, when they arrived at Reno and were transported in wagons to the asylum, their miserable attire was a subject of general comment. One of the most beneficial measures introduced by the management has been the weekly Saturday night dances. These recreations have had a very beneficial effect upon the patients. Many of the best citizens of Reno visit the asylum on dance nights, and engage in a quadrille or polka with Queen Victoria, Richard the Third, the Empress of Austria, Popes of Rome and many other distinguished characters. The grounds about the asylum are being constantly improved. It is proposed to build a bridge across the Truckee river, near the prison walls, and to cultivate a large tract of land on the opposite side.

THE COMSTOCK.

Rich Quartz in Union-Sierra Nevada—Upstairs Shipments—The Mills.

The rich gold quartz at the bottom of the Union-Sierra Nevada winze is still increasing in quantity. Five feet progress in sinking is reported for the week.

Opbir shipped over 400 tons to the mills last week.

The Brunswick mill started up Saturday night.

The Mexican mill is running forty out of forty-five stamps, and the Santiago thirty-five of its thirty-eight.

The Vivian mill is now working tailings. It will start up on ore November 1st.

A Card.

William Pluniger tenders his best thanks to his numerous friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal support accorded him in the past, and he begs to inform them that he has again effected a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, at the old stand, and respectfully invites a continuance of their patronage. The new firm have added largely to their stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes; toilet and fancy articles, etc. In the dispensing departments they make a specialty of physicians' prescriptions and family receipts, bringing to their already large experience the latest achievements in scientific pharmacy, and are prompt in filling all orders entrusted to them.

PINNIGER & QUEEN.

Violin Lessons.

Professor L. Zimmer, of Virginia, has organized a violin class in Reno and is prepared to give lessons on that instrument to anyone desiring his services. He is one of the best performers on the violin on this Coast and is said to be a very thorough and competent teacher. Letters addressed to him in care of this office will be promptly attended to. Read his advertisement.

Insane Patient.

Under Sheriff Ferd Reid, of Humboldt, yesterday brought in Henry B. Mears, and delivered him to the Asylum authorities. Mears is a native of Indiana, 42 years of age, and unmarried. He labors under the hallucination of being a great inventor.

An Interesting Entertainment.

The Spanish Students will make their appearance at the Nevada Theater next Monday night. The company consists of 16 persons, and they are all first class musicians. An exchange says of them: So keen and highly strung was the attention of the listeners, that at some points when the melodious strains of lute and mandolin enchaind their interest in the rendition of some specially lovely morceau, it was possible even to hear a pin fall. The music was very peculiar in some portions of the programme. You seemed to be transported as if by magic to far other scenes in distant lands, the orange groves of sunny Spain and the Courts of the Alhambra, whilst again by a certain weird transition as the theme was changed, you fancied that you could see the fandango or bolero danced before you on the stage, and it only needed the presence of a mantilla-clad Spanish dancing girl to convert the identity suggested by the music into a reality. What was specially noticeable in the performance was the wonderful command the performers had over their instruments and the dextrous manner in which the piano portions of the selections were rendered. The soft strains suddenly rising and then sinking and terminating with a grand forte finale, all the instruments blending together in unison spoke volumes for this presence of admirable drill amongst the performers.

Set Them at Work.

The county jail is now jammed full of convicts. Every inmate is strong and healthy, and is capable of earning his living, and as the county has to provide a living for them some arrangement should be made by which they can be made to earn a portion of it at least. A few hours labor on the streets each day would be a healthful exercise for these unwelcome boarders, and at the same time would benefit the people who have to pay the bills. A portion of Commercial Row has been nicely graded, but a stone gutter is sorely needed the whole length of the sidewalk. While the center of the street is dry it is next to impossible to approach the sidewalk from the street in wet weather, on account of mud. The Commissioners should detail ten or fifteen of these fellows to do this work under the direction of the Road Supervisor.

Profitable Sale of Horses.

Jack Leathers, formerly of Pyramid and Wadsworth, recently returned from Stockton, Cal., where he sold 150 head of Nevada horses at good figures. In driving across the mountains, Leathers reports having been interviewed between Bowman's dam and Eureka South, by an immense grizzly bear. Bruin evidently mistook the bell of the lead horse for a sheep bell, and rushing through the chaparral in the expectancy of a fat wether for lunch, he struck the band of horses about midway, scattering them all over the mountain side, but upon perceiving his mistake, he lost no time in getting out of the way. Mr. Leathers expects to make another drive before the road is blocked with snow.

Europe's Greatest Soldier.

A Berlin dispatch of the 27th says: Von Moltke celebrated his 84th birthday yesterday. He is staying on his estate in Kriesau, in Silesia. His life is very simple. He receives friends in the morning, plays whist in the afternoon, and works in the evening, criticising the papers submitted to him by the heads of departments, and writing on the margin, notes remarkable for their beauty of style and precision of thought. Next to the Emperor, Von Moltke is the most popular man in Germany. His birthday is a national holiday.

A School Paper.
